

Does the language have a velar–uvular distinction in either plosives or fricatives?

