

Which functions are covered by the language's apprehensional morphemes, regardless of whether they are split among multiple morphemes?

