

Does the language have a phonemic distinction between glottalized and non-glottalized liquids?

