

Does the language have a phonemic distinction between velar
and uvular plosives?

